

I already had the program installed, but i would have though > sudo apt install sqlitebrowser

I then created a new local database with a table and added a couple of entries

